WMAQ and WGN

Editor's Note—President Hoover's important address, to be delivered at Des Moines, Ia. this evening, will be broadcast by both the CBS and NBS networks, and Dixonites will find the best outlets to be WMAQ and WGN, Chicago. The address will start at 7:30 o'clock, Dixon time.

Rock Island, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—The special train carrying President Hoover and his party en route to Des Moines where tonight he will deliver the first speech in his campaign, arrived here at 11:30 A. M., 15 minutes behind schedule.

The President was greeted by a large enthusiastic crowd as he appeared on the platform to express his thanks for the welcome given him.

The firing of a double presidential salute from an arsenal gun was abandoned yesterday when Col. H. W. Schull, Commandant, received word from the War Department that the salute was to be given only in the event that the President visits the Arsenal.

Just before crossing the Mississippi river for the first time in the campaign the President spoke at length of federal aid for the people along that great body of water.

12,000 Greet Him
Greeted here by a crowd estimated by police at 12,000, the Chief Executive asserted into a hastily erected microphone, that the moves for "full nine-foot transportation between Rock Island and other cities on the Mississippi river system cannot fail to advance prosperity of your city."

"I shall not attempt to discuss national issues with you in so short a time as this," he added. Three bands were playing as the train entered the city. There was applause and cheers as the President and First Lady emerged. Immediately he leaned over the railing to shake hands with those nearest him.

Iowans Join Party
As the train crossed the Mississippi into Davenport and the President's native state, the Chief Executive observed with interest the Rock Island Arsenal and the $4,000,000 roller dam project, one of the main units being constructed in connection with the 9-foot channel program and which is about two-thirds completed.

The Chief Executive completed his text shortly before his special train crossed the Illinois line into his native state of Iowa, about 10 p. m.

Governor Dan Turner of Iowa and an official reception committee boarded the train at Davenport where another crowd estimated by police at 15,000 cheered the President and First Lady.

One of President Hoover's secretaries termed the speech he will deliver tonight as a "fighting" address, and Senator Dickinson (R. Iowa) who boarded the train at Englewood, Ill., and conferred with the President about it enroute, said it would mark the beginning of a new phase in the campaign. "Up to this point," Dickinson said, "the campaign trend has been to attack President Hoover's record. He has made such an outstanding record that the attacks will fall by the wayside."

The next phase of the campaign will be attacks on the Democratic program as unsound. This speech is the foundation for that program."

Dickinson also expressed the view that the President's speech would give the Republicans' cause a great boost in the farm area.

HIS "OPENING SPEECH"
On Board the Presidential Special, Enroute to Des Moines, Oct. 4.—(AP)—President Hoover was speeding through the farm belt today to Des Moines, Iowa, where tonight he will discuss agriculture and other problems in what Republicans hail as his "opening campaign speech."

In customary campaign style, the President had his special train stop at towns along the route so that he might greet the crowds that gathered to welcome him. Saving into campaign routine, the President made two rear platform appearances on his way through Pennsylvania last night, and at Altoona spoke briefly to a cheering crowd in which children were prominent.

MEXICANS ASK
EXPULSION OF

Mexico City

BULLETIN
Mexico City, Oct. 4.—(AP)—President Rodriguez today dictated an order expelling Monsignor Leopoldo Ruiz y Flores, the Papal Delegate, from Mexico.

Mexico City, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The Chamber of Deputies decided to call upon President Rodriguez today and demand the expulsion from Mexico of the Papal Legate, Monsignor Leopoldo Ruiz y Flores, because of the recent encyclical of Pope Pius XI on Mexican church affairs.

The decision followed an animated session in the Chamber last night. It was proposed by Luis Leon, editor of El Nacional, organ of the revolutionary party, who bitterly denounced the Catholic clergy. Previously the deputies had voted to send a commission to call upon the President, but on Leon's suggestion they decided to go in a body.

"I propose that we go in a body," he said, "and inform the executive that in obedience to our revolutionary convictions, we are ready to combat in any way our eternal foe." The resolution was approved by acclamation.

'Liberalism' Plea
Is For Radicals

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Speaking before the Vermont Republican state convention today United States Senator Daniel O. Hastings of Delaware asserted that Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's plea for "liberalism" is "a plea for the radical vote."

"His plea for 'liberalism' is a plea for the radical vote," he said, "because by liberalism he means to take in all of the new schemes of government proposed by any particular group of persons that are interested in governmental affairs. His plea for 'a new deal' it seems to me is based solely upon a desire for his own election; a plea to try him as President and see whether we do not like it better." Senator Hastings said that if he were able to state briefly the "affirmative action" taken by President Hoover to combat present economic conditions, "it would be impossible for us to conceive of anything but a tremendous Republican victory."

INDICTMENT OF INSULLS TO BE
SWANSON'S AIMCook County Prosecutor
Presents Charges
To Grand Jury

BULLETIN
Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Three true bills charging Samuel and Martin Insull with embezzlement, larceny and larceny by bailee were returned today by the Cook county grand jury.

The indictments were returned after less than an hour's deliberation by the grand jury on evidence given during the morning by half a dozen witnesses.

The grand jurors immediately after finishing their deliberations marched into a Criminal Court room where the true bills were made public.

Capiases were issued immediately for the arrest of the two Insulls.

States Attorney John A. Swanson announced he would start action immediately to extradite Samuel Insull from Paris and Martin Insull from Canada.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Prosecutors went before the county grand jury today for the announced purpose of obtaining criminal indictments against Samuel Insull, Sr., and his brother, Martin, in the Insull utility debacle which cost investors hundreds of millions of dollars.

State's Attorney John A. Swanson said the action was started because the two men paid no heed to his request that they return to the United States voluntarily for questioning.

Samuel Insull has been in Paris since shortly after the financing companies for his vast utility system crashed several months ago. Martin Insull is in Orillia, Ontario.

Swanson announced he would seek indictment of the brothers on charges of embezzlement, larceny, and larceny by bailee.

Basis of Accusations
Witnesses before the grand jury, Swanson indicated, would testify concerning $334,720 allegedly taken from treasuries of Insull firms to bolster a brokerage account.

Chicago lawyers for the Insulls refused to discuss the attitude of their clients toward extradition. A Chicago newspaper, however, reached Martin Insull by long distance telephone. Questions, the paper said, elicited a single reply: "I have nothing to say."

Swanson made public his accusations of the reputedly bolstered brokerage account yesterday. Previously he stated he possessed evidence indicating payment of marginal accounts of Martin Insull from corporate funds at Samuel's authorization.

The reputed "deal" occurred in 1929, Swanson said, when the elder Insull gave a group of the several Insull securities in exchange for stocks of Insull Utility Investments, Inc., appraised on the books at $9,765,908. Through "improper appraisal," Swanson charged, the Insulls netted $374,400.

Alleged Dummy Account
The prosecutor insisted evidence showed that Martin's alleged dummy brokerage account was carried in the name of Washington Flexner, president of the Lincoln Printing Company, which did printing for the Insulls.

Subpoenas for Flexner, Oliver E. McCormick, treasurer of the Middle West Utilities group, and other Insull corporation employees were given officers last night for service.

"The indictments expected today," Swanson said, "are not mere gestures. We have several real criminal cases and we can go into court next week to try them if the defendants appear. We have only scratched the surface. Undoubtedly other indictments will be asked."

Attaches of Swanson's office expressed the opinion that extradition could be obtained readily. Samuel Insull, Jr., in London on his way to Paris for a "holiday," declared he would return here in November.

A bankruptcy petition was filed in Federal Court yesterday against the Consolidated Property Trust Inc., holding company for the real estate properties of Samuel Insull and some of his associates. The petition said the properties involved formerly had an appraised value of $14,000,000, but are worth no more than $3,500,000 in the present market.

Liabilities of approximately $11,000,000, were listed.

ROCHELLE MAN SHOT WIFE AND

To Effect Reconciliation,
Shoots

(Telegraph Special Service)

Rochelle, Oct. 4.—Failing in an attempted reconciliation with his wife, Mrs. Lizzie Bell Walters, who had left him and was visiting at the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Bert Palmer, 121 South Ninth street, this city, Lincoln Walters, 42, acting sexton of the Rochelle city cemetery, walked into the living of the Palmer residence yesterday afternoon at 3:30 and fired two shots from a .32 caliber revolver at his wife, who was seated at a sewing machine, making some alterations on a dress when he entered the room.

One bullet struck Mrs. Walters in the back of the neck, as she arose and handed the dress to Mrs. Palmer and then sank to the floor. The second bullet narrowly grazed Mrs. Palmer's face as Walters, pocketing the smoking weapon, walked out of the house, stepped into his car and drove away. Mrs. Palmer called for assistance and the injured woman was removed to the Lincoln hospital.

Walters drove around Rochelle for more than 45 minutes, then went to his home, entered the garage and placing the muzzle of the revolver in his mouth, blew off the back of his head. City police, who were searching for Walters, found the body lying in the garage at his home after tracing him about the city.

Took Own Life
The bullet which struck Mrs. Walters was deflected by the skull after penetrating the scalp and attending physicians stated today that she would recover. Dr. J. C. Aiken of Forreston, Ogle county coroner, conducted an inquest over Walters' body at the city hall this morning, the jury returning a verdict of death due to a pistol shot self-inflicted and with suicidal intent after attempting to murder his wife.

The Walters were the parents of four children, Franklin, Bernice, George and Lola. They had parted some time ago, but were later remarried, then parted a second time. Walters had been trying to effect a reconciliation with his wife, it was said, during the past few days.

King Carol Shows
His Meanness Again

London, Oct. 4.—(AP)—King Carol of Rumania has cut short the visit of Crown Prince Michael in London with his mother, Princess Helen, the princess was quoted by the Daily Mail as saying today, and has threatened her with never seeing her son again.

She charged her former husband with "persecution and bad faith" for the action which she said, was taken because the King was resentful of the sympathy the British people have shown her since Michael arrived in London two weeks ago.

Michael came to stay six weeks, she said, but she was informed by an aide that he had been ordered to return to Rumania with the boy tomorrow.

STRAW STACK BURNS

The community fire truck was summoned to the McGinnis farm east of the city on the Lincoln Highway yesterday afternoon about 3:30. Members of the family had been burning rubbish in the yard and sparks from the smoldering fire are believed to have been blown to a straw stack which was completely consumed. The wind from the northwest, blew the flames away from the buildings, but attracted quite a crowd from the Dixon Municipal Airport where the aerial show was in progress. No damage was done to the buildings.

LEE CENTER WINS

The Lee Center Invincibles met Peterstown on the Lee Center diamond Sunday and scored a 10 to 2 victory over the visitors. The outstanding star of the afternoon was "Rosy" a colored lad who plays regularly with the Mendota Giants, who appeared in the Peterstown lineup. With one on, Rosy placed a hard drive over the fence for a home scoring the visitors' only runs. Glen Ikens allowed but one hit and received good support with only three errors behind him. Next Sunday the Mendota Giants are scheduled to play Lee Center on the latter's field.

Judge Certain Moore

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Henry F. Moore, the juror who caused a mistrial in the case of United States Senator James J. Davis, who was charged with violation of federal lottery laws, was sentenced today to pay a fine of $100 within 24 hours or go to jail for five days. His name was also stricken from the jury list.

Moore, who caused the mistrial by approaching defense counsel after the trial had run two weeks and was nearing conclusion, threw himself on the mercy of the court today, coming to the hearing into his case without counsel although he had been informed he was entitled to such representation.

The trial of Senator Davis, who was indicted in connection with alleged lotteries conducted by the Loyal Order of Moose in the guise of charity balls, was declared miscarried by Judge Coleman at the opening of court yesterday as the third week of testimony was started.

The action of the court was taken after defense attorney Chas. J. Margiotti reported to the judge that Juror Moore had called upon him at the Pennsylvania Hotel last Friday after adjournment for the week.

"No Corrupt Motive"
The juror wanted to tell Margiotti that another alternate juror was "putting in poison against your side."

After an investigation the court absolved the other juror.

"All I want to say Your Honor," said Moore today in a strained voice, "is that I am sorry—I never meant to harm anyone."

"I am convinced," said Judge Coleman, "that there was no corrupt motive and for that reason I am not going to send you to jail."

That a severance for Senator Davis' retrial will be difficult to obtain has been conceded by defense attorneys. The case is expected to be called again next Monday, but since it would be impossible for the Senator to obtain possible vindication before election, and still conduct a campaign the defense is expected to ask for delay so that he can devote his time to campaigning.

In the event the delay is granted, it is held likely the government would demand that Davis be tried along with the others under indictment.

Legislators Shun
Relief Measures to Wage Campaigns

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Strong possibility of lack of quorum faced leaders of the General Assembly today as it reconvened its fourth special session after a five-day adjournment.

Necessity of campaigning for the November election threatened to keep many members away despite the urgency of legislation if centers of unemployment relief are to be kept open next month.

Measures authorizing counties to adopt sales taxes to provide funds for poor relief were expected to receive most attention. The legislature was split widely last week on the question of limiting such legislation to Cook county, home of most of the needy. Downstate members said they would hold out against a tax against their constituents, few of whom need relief by comparison with Chicagoans.

Both houses had on their calendars bills providing for compulsory statewide sales taxes but they were not expected to be called up for action by their sponsors. Opposition had been too determined and numerically strong to anticipate success.

Ousted Employees
To Seek Redress

St. Charles, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Four state employees recently discharged from the St. Charles School for Boys will seek reinstatement before the state Civil Service Commission Oct. 24.

Hearing in the cases was opened yesterday, but the commission decided on a three weeks recess to give the employees and officials of the institution time to perfect their cases.

Under the state civil service law, the discharged employees must prove they were discriminated against for political, religious or racial reasons, if they are to be reinstated.

The employees who are contesting the right of state officials to discharge them are William Temple, house father; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Damon, house father and house mother, and Mrs. Mayme Clendenin, assistant cook.

ED. SCHEFFLER
LOST LIFE IN
CRACKUP HEREGeorge Fruit, Pilot Of Ill-Fated Plane Is Critically Hurt

Edward Scheffler, nearly 24, of near Franklin Grove is dead and George Fruit, Franklin Grove garage owner and member of the Blackhawk Flying Club, an organization of pilots at the Dixon Municipal airport, is in the Dixon public hospital with critical injuries, the result of the crash of the flying club's two-passenger mono-coupe plane, in which they were riding, into a field on the Harris farm a quarter of a mile from the airport, at about 4:10 o'clock Monday afternoon. The tragedy was witnessed by a number of people en route to and from the airport, where the Mulzer Flying Circus exhibited before a big crowd all afternoon.

Both Fruit, the pilot, and Scheffler, his passenger, were unconscious when the plane crashed and was crumpled into a twisted and torn mass of wreckage in the field as Fruit apparently was making an effort to return to the airport. Fruit was making his third flight of the afternoon while a large crowd witnessed the program of the air circus. At the hospital last evening he told David Barton, one of the members of the flying club and an associate partner in the ownership of the plane, that the wind speed or heat indicators had become entangled with the controls, causing the flat spin and loss of control of the plane, resulting in the crash.

Hundreds Rush To Scene
Hundreds rushed to the scene of the accident and surged about the wreckage plane while the victims were removed and placed in automobiles which rushed them to the hospital. State Highway Officers Hal Roberts and Frank Tyne of Dixon and Blanchard of Byron, who were on duty at the airport, with deputies from the sheriff's office, took charge of the situation a few minutes after the crash. Scheffler was placed in Officer Roberts machine, he being the first to be removed from the wreckage and later the pilot was carried to the automobile of Richard McVey, and both rushed to the hospital.

Fruit was in a semi-conscious condition, his left leg being practically severed between the ankle and knee, his head badly bruised and the flesh torn, and the jaw bone fractured. His companion was unconscious, the cowl back of the motor having been shoved back pinning his body in the seat. He was cut and bruised about the face and head and his chest crushed. He never regained consciousness and died at the hospital at 7:20 o'clock last evening.

Plane Out of Control

The pilot, who is a member of Sheriff Fred Richardson's force of deputies had taken the plane on its third trip during the afternoon after having been up on short trips about the field and on the third trip invited Scheffler to accompany him. The plane left the field heading northwest against the wind and when it was over the Lincoln Highway paving, observers noticed its strange actions. Fruit flew a short distance in a northerly direction and apparently started to make a gradual turn in an effort to return to the airport, when the plane began dropping in a flat spin. The rudders and elevators were seen by witnesses to the accident to be working, but the plane apparently was out of control, probably due to lack of flying speed, and crashed to the ground as a falling leaf.

As it struck the ground the right wheel on the undercarriage collapsed, allowing the right wing to hit the ground and demolishing it as it was almost torn from the body of the plane. The propeller was shattered and the engine struck the ground, but the plane did not nose over. Scheffler had placed the safety belt about his waist before the plane left the ground and both pilot and passenger were crushed in the cabin, which was split apart.

The plane was not stunting at the time and was levelled off as it had left the field, witnesses to the accident stated. Attorney Fred Gardner of Rochelle, member of the Illinois Aeronautical Commission, attended the inquest which was conducted at the Preston chapel this morning by Coroner Frank M. Banker of Franklin Grove, and questioned the witnesses.

Witness Told Story
Duane Wood, who with August Julian were on their way to the airport, testified to the action of the plane just before the crash. According to his testimony the plane appeared to waver as it passed over the Lincoln Highway, having after leaving the airport and was headed in a northwesterly direction against the wind at an shouting but those close to his platform heard him say, his smile for the moment gone, "we are doing what a government can and should do to help its people."

He also expressed pleasure at being in Altoona and thanked the crowd for the welcome given him.

The Altoona appearance was made by the first platform appearance enroute of Mr. Hoover. She joined the Chief Executive at the end of the presidential car, and taking a megaphone, pleaded with those in the rear not to crush the children crowded up near to the train.

The President was introduced by Representative Kurtz (R. Penna.) who drew cheers by hailing Mr. Hoover as "the next President of the United States."

The other stop last night was made at Harrisburg, but the President did not speak.

Finished Address

The train was scheduled to arrive in Des Moines shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Although White House officials have said that Mr. Hoover will discuss other current issues than the farm problem in the night address, no indication was given to those accompanying him on the train as to what these subjects might be.

The President, his aides said, spent some time last night making final revisions in the address.

Rained On Chicago

The President and Mrs. Hoover halted for 20 minutes in Chicago during a downpour of rain early today.

They appeared for a few minutes on the observation platform of their special train at an outlying station, posed for photographs, and exchanged pleasantries with those at the station. The train was not routed through the downtown district and stopped only to change locomotives.

"Some of you aren't dressed warmly enough to be out in this weather," Mrs. Hoover told the visitors.

The President, wearing a gray suit and carrying a gray, soft hat, said of "having a good reception at Altoona. For last night." He said the speech to be given at Des Moines tonight had been prepared and was being made ready for distribution to the press by his secretary, Walter H. Newton.

There was no formal reception scheduled for the presidential party in Chicago, and the train passed through unheralded.

Greeted At Ottawa

The first stop after leaving Chicago was at Ottawa, where several hundred persons gathered in a chill rain to watch the passing of the presidential train and cheer Mrs. Hoover as she appeared on the rear platform.

"You are a lot of brave people to come out in this pouring rain to see us," said the First Lady.

There were calls for the President, and Mrs. Hoover explained he was very busy writing but would come out and greet them before the train left.

It got under way at that moment and the President stepped out at her call to wave to the crowd.

altitude he estimated, of probably 300 feet. After passing over the highway and turning a short distance, the pilot turned the plane about a quarter turn as if trying to return to the airport, when it settled in a flat spin and crashed. Wood was one of the first to reach the wrecked plane and assisted in removing Scheffler and taking him to the hospital.

David Barton, member of the Blackhawk Flying Club and an associate pilot of Fruit, testified that the plane was a licensed ship and that the pilot was also licensed. No difficulty had been experienced with the plane by other pilots, he said, and testified to a conversation he had with Fruit at the hospital last evening in which the Franklin Grove man stated that the wind speed or heat indicators became tangled with the controls, causing the loss of control of the plane.

To Inspect Plane

It was with much difficulty that deputy sheriffs and Boy Scouts, who formed about the wrecked plane, held back the crowd of hundreds of curious persons, the majority of whom sought to tear pieces of broken or torn wood or fabric from the wreckage as souvenirs. Permission was secured at 6 o'clock last evening to dismantle the wrecked plane and it was removed to the hangars at the airport and locked up pending a thorough inspection which will be made later in the week.

The deceased victim of the crash, Edward W. Scheffler, was born near Franklin Grove, October 20, 1908. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Caroline Scheffler, who resides east of Dixon, and the following brothers and sisters: Miss Anna Scheffler of Chevy Chase, Md.; Mrs. Bertha Brewer of Fredericksburg, Va.; Mrs. Mildred Riden of Erie, Ill.; Mrs. Ruth Shaulis of Nelson township; Theodore of near Walnut; Adolph, Fred and George of Hamilton township; Frank of Nachusa township; Charles of Dixon township. Funeral services will be conducted from the Immanuel Lutheran church in this city, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. A. G. Suechting officiating and with interment in Oakwood.

Pilot Fruit, while in a critical condition at the hospital, suffering from many broken bones and severe lacerations about the face and head, was resting quietly at noon today, and attending physicians held out hope for his recovery.

Minnesota's Star Back Is Very Ill

Minneapolis, Oct. 4—(AP)—Myron Uhl, Minnesota half back, on whom Coach Bernie Bierman planned to depend for considerable first string duty, this fall, remained in serious condition at a hospital today.

Uhl suffered a chest bone fracture in football practice. Pneumonia followed and late last week pus gathered near his lungs, necessitating insertion of draining tubes.

Physicians said recovery was not certain and that Uhl, a Minneapolis youth, would not play football this year. He was a letter winner as a sophomore last year.

HURLEY PLANS TOUR

Washington, Oct. 4—(AP)—Secretary Hurley leaves Washington by airplane, if the weather is good, to fill 13 speaking engagements in the west. If the weather is unfavorable he will go by train to St. Louis where he will have a plane meet him. His schedule of speeches includes:

October 6—Afternoon, Keokuk, Iowa; night, Davenport, Ia.

October 8—Ripon, Wis.

October 17—Night, St. Louis.

Secretary Hurley said his speech at Davenport will be broadcast.

An Aged Hero Of Conquest Of The Sudan Is Dead

Vienna, Oct. 4—(AP)—One of the last surviving heroes of the British conquest of the Sudan—Sir Rudolph Slatin Pasha—died in a sanitarium here today at the age of 75.

He was an Austrian by birth and began his fighting career in the old Austrian army, seeing action in Bosnia as a Lieutenant. When he was 21 he enlisted as a volunteer in the British army in Egypt, participating in many thrilling actions in the Sudan.

He served under "Chinese" Gordon and became a Mohammedan while he was in command of a Moslem detachment. The Mahdi tribesmen captured him and held him prisoner for twelve years before he escaped.

Later he served with Lord Kitchener as chief of the British Intelligence Service under that Commander, and subsequently as the British General Sir Rudolph Slatin, he governed the Sudan.

During this period he wrote "Fire and Sword in the Sudan." When the World War came he was assigned to supervision of military prisoners. Afterward he visited Egypt and the Sudan as a civilian, then retired to Austria.

A month ago he underwent an operation for stomach trouble and since then his health had failed rapidly.

VILLAGE STREET
 The still blue dusk of winter creeps along the quiet street. A row of poplars stand, like slim harps against the sky.

Awaiting the touch of the wind
 To set them into singing:
 The long, cool fingers of the wind
 To awaken music of an older growth.
 Suddenly a child's laughter
 Cuts the silence into pulsing sound—
 A cricket, reassured,
 Resumes his thin singing.
 In the tall grass by the side.

Those present included, Mr. and Mrs. Bert O'Rourke and two sons of Wheaton, Ill., Mrs. Frank Sowles, Mrs. Clarence Hurley, Ray Wilson, Chicago; James England and son Bert, of Grand Detour; Mr. and Mrs. William Lottstetter, and two children, Alice and Clarence, Dave Lottstetter and Dan Jeanette, Mrs. Clarence Martin and two children, Kenneth and Katherine of Dixon; Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Adams and Robert Zinke of Oak Ridge. All reported a delightful time and hope to meet again, soon.

League Women Voters Sponsors Drive for Funds

Chicago, Oct. 4. —(AP)—Fearing that unless voters approve the $20,000,000 bond issue for unemployment relief, the state will be unable to get funds for this work in the future, the Illinois League of Women Voters has arranged for a state-wide drive for passage of the bond issue.

Speakers will appear in practically every county of the state urging approval of the bond issue to be voted upon at the November election, the legislative committee of the League announced last night.

The committee also advocated passage of Senator Harold Ward's gateway amendment which would permit three constitution amendments to be submitted at each election. At present only one proposal for amendment to the state constitution can be presented.

Woodyatt-Rosbrook Wedding Announced
 Mr. and Mrs. George Woodyatt, 812 E. Chamberlain St., today announce the marriage of their daughter Dorothy Woodyatt, to Glenn Rosbrook, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rosbrook of Palmyra. The marriage of this popular young couple is of much interest here.

The wedding ceremony was solemnized in Rockford on Thursday afternoon, Sept. 29th, at the parsonage of a Methodist church. They were unattended. The bride wore a wine colored crepe silk gown with hat matching, and harmonizing accessories.

Both young people are graduates of the Dixon high school of the class of 1931 and both were most popular in a large circle of friends. Glenn Rosbrook was one of the football stars of his team.

Mr. Rosbrook is an attractive young woman. At present they are making their home with the George Rosbrooks where Glenn assists his father.

On Friday evening a group of about thirty young folks surmised that the couple were married, gathered outside the Woodyatt home in North Dixon and raised Cain in general—in other words they held a charivari for the newlyweds—who finally came to the door and then treated their friends royally to ice cream and cake, etc. All join in wishing the young couple every happiness in their new life.

Deep Breathing Most Essential

Every now and then every woman says: "I have been so busy I haven't had time to draw a long breath!"

The truth of the matter probably is that she really hasn't drawn a long breath. And it shows. There is a tendency toward narrow, cramped muscles in her chest. Her cheeks would be a little pinker, her eyes would be a little brighter, her mouth would be a little gayer, if she had drawn not one, but a series of long, long breaths.

Air feeds the body quite as much as water and food do. It purifies, cleanses, braces it.

When the air current is retarded, or only reaches a half-way point, the system can't stay young and lovely. It must be aired if it is to be rejuvenated.

Start the day by throwing open a window, standing erect and taking a dozen long, slow breaths. Feel your whole body rising, growing poised, as you breathe. Count 10 as you go up. Count slowly, too. Then count ten as you let the air out. Breathe through your nose always. Exhale through your mouth in these special exercises.

As you do your exercises watch the manner in which you breathe. The exercise will be twice as beneficial if the air currents are right.

If you are performing the simple exercise of stooping over until your finger tips touch the ground, knees being kept rigid as you do this, draw a deep breath as you lean forward. Hold it a few seconds. Let it out as you take your first position.

As you walk down the street throw your head up and take deep breaths. Pretend that an invisible cord is drawing your head up and up. Then start to breathe until you feel the rush of air in your lungs. Clean out the secret corners where grime has gathered. Keep your lungs elastic. Breathing correctly is a simple thing to do. But so few people do it, and even fewer people know that they aren't doing it correctly.

Garbo Is Still Elusive—More So!

Stockholm, Sweden, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Two of the world's most glamorous figures — Greta Garbo and the Prince of Wales—almost met yesterday afternoon in a Turkish bath.

They happened to be in the place at the same time, but there was no meeting even though a Stockholm newspaper did print an elaborate account, with imaginary details, of their introduction.

Miss Garbo, her European manager said, is as retiring as ever. Even his efforts failed when he tried to get her to dine at one of the large restaurants when the British heir and his brother, Prince George, were there. She is refusing all invitations which would involve her appearance in public.

Golden Wedding For J. L. Moores

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Moore, 427 N. Third street, Rockford, parents of Harry Moore of Dixon, are today celebrating their golden wedding. They had intended to spend the day quietly but relatives had planned a happy gathering of relatives and friends and a reception at the Trinity Lutheran church of which Mr. and Mrs. Moore are members. A delicious dinner was planned for noonday. Between fifty and seventy-five guests were expected to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Moore, son and daughter of Dixon, are among those present.

To Give Illustrated Lecture P. T. A.

Prairieville P. T. A. will hold their October meeting Thursday evening, October 6, at 8:00, at the schoolhouse. F. A. Hanson of Dixon will give an illustrated lecture, "Know Illinois" is his topic. Mrs. Parker of the Woodlawn District will give a reading. Quartette numbers will be sung by the Conrad sisters of the Stone school district. Other musical numbers will be presented by the children of the school.

Since we are a Christian organization, first and always, believing in the cardinal principles of love and faith as expressed in the devotional lesson of the morning session, let us newly resolve to love our neighbor, regardless of whether his opinions and habits agree with ours, and let us cultivate a spirit of faith, even though it seem hard at times to see the way ahead.

Yet, as we have been reminded faith is not all. We must also have works. We have perhaps neglected the opportunity and obligation for a continuous educational program, feeling mistakenly that with the adoption of the 18th Amendment, our task in this line was finished.

But we are now coming to a full realization of the fact that we must go back and pick up the threads that we dropped. So let us resolve that individually, locally, and collectively, we will stress the publicity of facts—undisputed and significant facts concerning prohibition, through the radio, the press, the pulpit and platform, and very especially our church and day schools, where our young people are receiving instruction which will affect their entire lives. We suggest that each unit endeavor to cooperate with

Some Sophisticated—Others Are Demure

By JEAN SAVOY
 NEA Service Writer

All gowns have a flair for drama this year. Some of them go about it quaintly, while others have a decided leaning toward sophistication. And some, as the three pictured frocks show, know how to combine the two.

The afternoon tea gown at the top is fashioned from supple black velvet that molds the body in a devastating manner. The round white ermine collar, with its many little tails is demure and wise enough to know it. The sleeves are particularly fascinating and romantic with their rabbit-ear cut. The skirt is ankle length and the belt is rather high.

A new crushed velvet material has been used for the dress in the

Resolutions Adopted By Lee Co. W.C.T.U. at Steward, Sept. 23

We realize that these are trying times—testing times—when every bit of our abilities and capabilities must be concentrated on the problems before us. With that fact facing us, we offer the following resolutions.

Since we are a Christian organization, first and always, believing in the cardinal principles of love and faith as expressed in the devotional lesson of the morning session, let us newly resolve to love our neighbor, regardless of whether his opinions and habits agree with ours, and let us cultivate a spirit of faith, even though it seem hard at times to see the way ahead.

New Books Dixon Public Library

"SONS"—Pearl S. Buck

"Wang Lung lay dying." Thus the action of "Sons" begins immediately after that of the last chapter of "The Good Earth." Those who read the latter will not want to miss this fine new novel of Oriental life.

"Strange River"—Julian Green.
 The author reveals the small, malice, the sense of guilt, the desire to do evil, the fears of the average "good people." Strange River creates within a comfortable Paris flat the inner world of Philippe Clery, his wife whom he has never loved, and her old maid sister, shrieved by her unspoken, possessive love for Philippe. It is a book with less horror less of the bizarre interest of "Dark Journey," but with far more clarity and penetration.

Desert Sand—Pedler.
 With the desert as a background, Mrs. Pedler tells the romance of a sporting English girl who lost her heart to a man forbidden to her for some strange reason.

Best Short Stories for 1932—O'Brien.

O'Brien's yearly volumes of all short stories warrant an emphatic and unconditional recommendation to all.

Running Footman—Owen.

Even today there are servants who run for their masters, and masters who accept their servants as chattel; there are still men who fall in love with their betters. So it is that this story of a century and a half ago can still move us. The duty of John Deere is to run before his master's coach announcing him he falls in love with a member of the household, above him in station, and his passion endures, happily but hopelessly.

Flight of the Swan—A Memory of Pavlova—Oliverof.
 Andre Oliverof was Pavlova's first classical dancer for ten years. He knew her both as an artist and a woman. He relates their experiences in tours of the world, he explains her technique, he describes the "incredible electric effect of her first entrance on the stage." The famous dancer lives again in this biography which is a study of her art, an appreciation of her genius, and a memoir of a woman.

The book addresses itself not only to women, but to men and children as well. Simple, practical, and up-to-date suggestions are given, on skin problems, the hands, hair waving and dyeing. Clothes and how to wear them, the figure, make-up, etc. Men may not want to be bald or bay-windowed. For children the emphasis is laid on regular habits and diet.

FOR CHILDREN
 Abe Lincoln: Frontier Boy—Stevenson.
 Little children for whom formal biography is too difficult will enjoy reading these simple, enterprising tales about Lincoln as a boy. For children of 7 and up.

Picture Book of Rivers—McNab.
 Ten rivers, and what interesting boats go up them, what strange countries they pass through, and how different they are. Simple maps make locations clear, and beautiful illustrations make the book even more attractive. For children of 7 and up.

Boy Scouts Year Book
 An all round book for boys, containing stories of adventure, sports, schools, cowboys, airplanes, sailing, etc. For boys 9 and up.

Boy King of the Canibal Islands—Ducorron.
 From the time the story opens with a circle of tattooed cannibals gathered around a little white child there is not a moment when the reader is not entranced. The chief of the tribe wants to adopt the white boy and make him king. The father, who is the captain of a schooner, objects, but the cannibals steal the boy one night, and with ceremonial rites make him their king. The story is exciting and gives an excellent idea of life in the south sea islands. For boys and girls 10 and up.

We also want to express to the Steward W. C. T. U. and to the pastor of the church, our appreciation of the fine spirit of hospitality they have shown us, and the pleasant, comfortable place provided for our Convention. We want to honor the Steward Union for their success and cooperation. We predict that their influence will reach even beyond the boundaries of the county.

Adapt Your Menus Now to Weather

In spite of the profusion of fruits and vegetables available during the early fall months, meal planning is a bit difficult. Sudden changes in the weather influence the produce market as well as appetites so that menus cannot be planned long in advance. Hot noons and cool mornings and evenings demand different types of foods, and the home-maker must be alert to these changes.

Meats are a comparatively simple problem because game is added to the list of poultry and meat. Brunswick stew and fricassee of rabbit make delicious and economical meat dishes that are invitingly seasonal. At this time of the year poultry lends itself to a vast variety of methods of cookery. Oysters and other fish increase the assortment.

Until a "killing" frost comes, egg plant, cauliflower, sweet peppers, late spinach, lima beans, pole beans, late sweet corn and cucumbers are at their best. Tomatoes lose their flavor, for they usually add variety to the list of fruits. Peas can be stored and kept for some time but peaches are of poor quality if touched by cold and are too perishable to stand storing.

If, upon his arrival here today to urge his election as the Democratic nominee for president, Gov. Roosevelt of New York should happen to see copies of the Los Angeles Examiner for March, April, May and June of this year—they have been withdrawn from sale—he would be surprised to read what his present chief newspaper supporter, W. R. Hearst, thought of him so short a time ago.

The Democratic presidential nominee comes into Southern California under the aegis of the Hearst newspapers which vociferously applaud him as the one man to whom the country must look for safe guidance.

This is September. Last March, April and May, Mr. Hearst publicly proclaimed Speaker Garner as Democracy's only salvation—Mr. Roosevelt its chief menace.

On April 14, last, Hearst speaking through his Los Angeles Examiner, said of Mr. Roosevelt, "why nominate a New York candidate and thereby invite defeat? New York political leadership, New York financial leadership and New York business leadership have been discredited."

Hearst quoted William G. McAdoo who was against Roosevelt, not only in April and May, but in June. Mr. Hearst said Mr. McAdoo spoke not only for the entire nation, but for the Democratic party when referring to Roosevelt's candidacy for the Democratic nomination for president. Mr. McAdoo said:

"It is not enough to swap Washington for New York. The change must be absolute."

Then speaking in his own behalf, Mr. Hearst remarked editorially: "Both New Yorkers prominently mentioned in the race (Roosevelt and Al Smith) are beaten men; one for the presidency in 1928 and the other for vice president in 1920. Both bear the stamp of failure as vote getters outside the ranks of the party."

On May 1, the Examiner said in a political article: "Democratic leaders of the east who refuse to be impressed by Roosevelt pretensions hope that California will add another match to the flame on Tuesday by giving its decision to Garner."

"Men who are in a position to appraise Roosevelt's equipment declare that his presidential boom is a 'fake' pure and simple. They know him for what he is not, rather than for what he is."

Referring to the morals and political feelings of Democratic leaders in the east, the Examiner of May 2 said: "They—the Democratic leaders—believe the nomination of Roosevelt would make certain the reelection of President Hoover. Of the two men they accord Hoover more credit for firmness of character, sincerity of conviction, honesty of political principles and superior administrative efficiency."

On the same day not quite five months ago the Examiner said editorially with respect to the candidacies of Roosevelt and Smith for the Democratic nomination, "The nominee will not be either of these New Yorkers. Even apart from the question of their hopeless deadlock under the two-thirds rule the leadership of New York is so discredited throughout the nations that neither can hope to carry the country."

The California presidential primary election was held and Mr. Hearst's candidate for the presidency—Speaker Garner—captured the California delegation to the Democratic national convention.

On May 6th the Examiner remarked editorially: "It is sheer audacity, not to say political trickery on the part of Governor Roosevelt's supporters to suggest that Speaker John N. Garner should play second fiddle to their candidate by consenting to accept the vice presidential nomination."

"In view of his smashing victory at the primary in California on Tuesday it is an insult to Garner to suggest that he should quit the presidential race to become the running mate of Gov. Roosevelt."

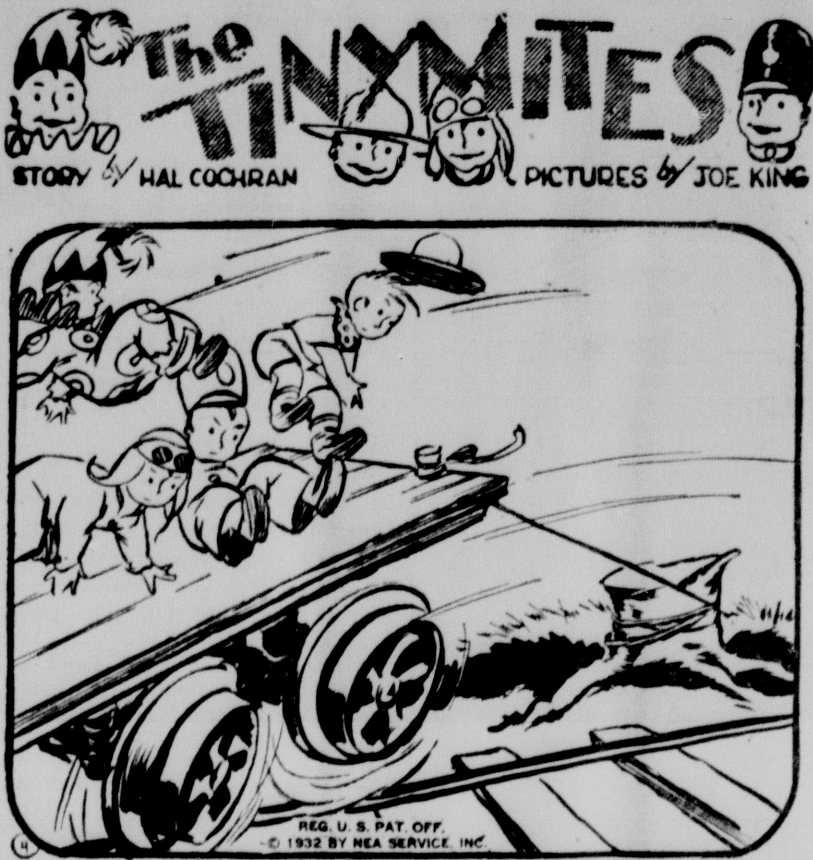

"But fortunately it is unthinkable that Speaker Garner would accept the nomination for any position less important than that he now occupies."

"President, or Speaker, or nothing," should be the reply of this plain Democrat, this rugged all-American whose sole purpose in public life is service to the American people."

Our material standard of living has, except for temporary setbacks, constantly risen higher and higher until there has come not only a realization that we can but a determination that we shall have democracy in prosperity as well as democracy in politics and education.—Walter S. Gifford, president American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

To participate in government, women must break down the barrier of prejudice and greed of the mid-Victorian male politician who is too often not only selfish but dishonest.—Mrs. George H. Miles, resigning president of the New Jersey State Women's Republican Club.

Our task today is not to expand or to exploit, but firmly to integrate our industries in the society they are designed to serve.—Acting Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York.

Wee Scouty had been trained real well and he could throw a lasso swell. The Tinymites were glad when he said he would stop their car.

They watched his long rope fly through the air, trusting it would catch most anywhere. He missed the stump he threw at, though, because he threw too far.

"Oh, try again," cried Duncy. "We are getting dizzy as can be seen from bumping on this flat car. We must find some way to stop."

"If you can lasso something tight, I'm sure that we will be all right. If not, we are going to ride until we take a sudden flop."

Once more the little rope flew out and then there came a loud, sudden shout. "Hurray," cried Windy. "That was good! This time you will succeed!"

And then they heard a sudden thump. The rope had landed on the stump. Said Copsy, "When the rope pulls tight, 'from this ride we will be freed.'"

They shortly found that he was right. The line of rope soon pulled so tight it jerked the speeding flat car. What a sudden, big surprise!

Before the Tinymites could do a single thing, right off they flew through the air, trusting it would catch most anywhere. He missed the stump he threw at, though, because he threw too far.

My, what a heap they landed because he threw too far. "Oh, try again," cried Duncy. "We are getting dizzy as can be seen from bumping on this flat car. We must find some way to stop."

"If you can lasso something tight, I'm sure that we will be all right. If not, we are going to ride until we take a sudden flop."

HOROSCOPE

Tuesday, October 4, 1932.

Astrologers read this as a day requiring keenness of judgment because the positive and negative forces of nature are intensely active.

The early morning hours are auspicious for political affairs, and for employers of labor and public health.

Much financial concern on the part of the public is seen this morning and the seers advise those who are contemplating investments or money commitments to proceed only after obtaining very definite information. It is not a lucky time to sell or make loans.

There is a sway favoring long journeys, and international affairs. Dealings with foreign affairs should come into prominence today as well as legal and religious matters.

Doctors and surgeons at this time may show excellent judgment in the handling of difficult cases, especially among children.

The afternoon should be devoted to ordinary routine, there being no prominent planetary stimuli for important matters. Scientific and religious affairs can be advanced at this time.

After 2:30 P. M. the stars promise much success for those who wish to make short trips, sign papers, leases or other agreements. Educational affairs may improve during this afternoon; good for teachers and schools and all educational advancement.

The evening hours also promise friendly aspects for mutual interests and study; a good time for creative ideas regarding publishing, advertising, law and politics. The sway is successful for visiting relations and for short journeys.

Children born on this day will be blessed with plenty of vitality and enterprise; they should be trained in money matters.

Rutherford B. Hayes, nineteenth President of the United States, was born on this date, 1822. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday, include Michael Idvorsky Pupin, 1858 American physicist; Guizot, 1787, the French historian.

Local Families
May Borrow Without Co-Signers

The advantages of the Household Loan Plan with its reasonable rates are now available to the people of Dixon through the Freeport office of the Household Finance Corporation. Many Dixon people have discovered that the advantages of this plan more than compensate for the trip to Freeport.

Under the Household Loan Plan, you can borrow $300 or less to help tide over family financial emergencies, with as long as 20 months to repay. The cost is as low as the economies of Household's large volume and efficient management can make possible.

Under the Household Plan the only signatures required are those of husband and wife. You do not have to have friends or relatives endorse your note. No investigations are made among friends, tradespeople, or employers.

The loan is strictly between you and Household. Any married couple permanently located and keeping house whose normal income is sufficient to meet living expenses plus small payments on a loan is eligible to borrow under this plan. If you desire further information on the Household Loan plan just address the Household Finance Corporation, Tarbox Building, Freeport, Ill.

of limbless vertebrates—animals with a spinal column but without the equivalents of arms and legs—have a rib attached to every vertebra.

The vertebrate animals that have limbs have rib attachments only on certain of the vertebrae.

When these extra ribs appear in man, they represent a throwback to lower types of constitutional organization. The extra rib may be present on one side only, or there may be two, one on each side.

The position of this extra rib affects the passage of an important artery and nerve located within the region of the neck and shoulder.

The cervical rib may exist without giving rise to any symptoms at all. Or it may interfere with the blood supply to the arm and may produce what is clinically diagnosed as neuritis or pain in the nerves of the arm.

Pain is one of the common complaints. On the other hand, there may be a partial or complete lack of sensation in the arm affected, sometimes, too, a motor paralysis.

These complaints seldom are seen in a child. They may be developed by the adolescent and most commonly in the adult.

Violent exercise and the development of muscles of the neck and shoulders incidental to work or sports, may provoke the symptoms.

The diagnosis is simple. It usually may be established by an X-ray examination. Treatment may involve either surgical removal of the cervical rib or the loosening of muscle attachments around it.

STATE WORKERS'
CONTRIBUTIONS TO NEEDY LARGE

Donated Nearly $200,000
To Unemployed
Last Winter

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 4.—(A.P.) Contributions of state employees to unemployment relief last winter totaled $186,702.35, a committee in charge of the fund reported to Governor Louis L. Emmerson today.

Not one cent was required for administration expense.

Signed by Director Garrett DeForest Kinney, of the Department of Finance, and Director Stuart E. Pierson, of the Department of Agriculture, chairman and treasurer, respectively the report showed that the various counties of the state, and recognized charitable organizations, received a total of $183,977.66. Allotments to counties in accordance with the desires of the contributors, totaled $63,210.50, and allotments to charitable organizations, made on the same basis were $122,767.16.

Of the remaining $824.48, a total of $504.26 was paid out for express and freight on seed shipments into the counties where relief needs were the greatest and $112.26 was expended for buttons that were worn by the contributors to the fund.

Checks totaling $108.17 were cancelled because of bank failures or the death of contributors. None of these items constitutes administration expense.

The report shows the amount contributed by each employee, the amount sent to the specified charitable organizations of each county, and the amount turned over to counties for relief work.

Started by Gov. Emmerson early in the fall of 1930 the fund followed his organization of a group of business men of the state into the nation's first unemployment relief commission. Later, the relief machinery set up by this commission was given an official status by the Illinois General Assembly, and now in functioning as the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission.

Other states, and even the Federal government, have followed the Illinois plan in organizing their relief agencies.

During the winter of 1930-31, the employees under the governor contributed a day's pay per month from December to March, inclusive. Last winter, the voluntary payments extended over a period of six months.

Chairman Kinney informed Gov. Emmerson that a report now is being compiled on the collections and disbursements for 1931-32, and will be transmitted to him within the near future.

Bona-fide Dirt Farmer Proves The Worth Of Scientific Work

Benton, Ill. —(AP)—A striking example of profitable scientific farming, one of the most unusual ever witnessed in southern Illinois, has been offered here by Walter W. Williams, president of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, a successful lawyer as well as a bona-fide dirt farmer.

Williams has also been interested in coal mining for the past several years and has served as counsel for several large corporations as well as enjoying an extensive practice in the general class of legal circles, but amid all this diversity of duties, many of which take him away for considerable periods, he finds time to direct all his farm operations.

Several years ago Walter Williams purchased a number of old worn-out and abandoned farms a short distance south of this city. The small farmers had tried raising wheat and corn on their small tracts until their fertility had been exhausted and then, as the coal mining industry flourished they hastened to the pits.

Having purchased a number of these adjoining tracts of barren acres, the present head of the state Chamber of Commerce set about the task of re-habilitating and restoring their fertility. Neighbor farmers poked fun at Williams and said his money would soon be washed into the Big Muddy river as he started spreading limestone and other fertilizers on the worn-out fields. But Williams knew what he was about and soon he had these acres set in clover and other soil building crops and his neighbors were indeed amazed in just a few years when they saw fields of wheat and corn that were better than they had ever raised.

When the lawyer-farmer had restored fertility to his acres, he did not repeat crops until the fertility was again leaving, but rotated his crops in a manner that continued fertility and at the same time brought profitable harvests. Forty bushels of wheat to the acre and seventy-five bushels of corn were not uncommon on these fields given up just a few years before as too poor to plan to any crop.

Williams' example has been a great uplift to the entire community and the neighbors now have better farms than they had when the scientific operations were begun. They have copied Williams' style and have benefited greatly. Williams did not confine his farm activities exclusively to land-building and crop growing, but had one of the finest dairy herds in all of Egypt. He built a dairy barn that was the last word in modern convenience. Individual drinking fountains were installed for each cow, stalls with name plates on each door, and beds as clean as if made for human occupancy, were features of this deluxe dairy barn on the Williams farm.

Williams bought car after car of crushed stone to build roads to his farm, which were as helpful to his neighbors as himself. Taxable property in the district embracing the Williams farm, is now perhaps double what it would have been had he never bought up the abandoned farms and turned them into one of the best farms in the country.

Farm Radio

The October crop reports of the Department of Agriculture, and also the October reports on the feedstuffs market and on numbers of lambs on feed, will be summarized for the radio audience in departmental period of the National Farm and Home Hour program for the week beginning Monday, Oct. 10.

A special summary of the work stock situation by J. O. Williams, animal husbandman and the fifth report from Dr. H. G. Knight, Chief, Bureau of Chemistry and Soils, on recent chemical-research results of service to the agricultural industries, also will be broadcast in the Farm and Home Hour programs of the week.

The complete list of speakers follows:

Monday, Oct. 10.—Summary, October Cotton Crop Report, V. C. Chilis, Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Tuesday, Oct. 11.—"General Crop Review," W. F. Callender, Bureau of Agricultural Economics; "Wheat, Oats, Barley, and Flax Report," J. A. Becker, Bureau of Agricultural Economics; "Corn, Hay, Tobacco, and Beans Report," S. A. Jones, Bureau of Agricultural Economics; "Fruit and Vegetable Crop Report," Paul L. The National Farm and Home Hour is broadcast from 11:30 A. M. to 12:30 P. M. Central Standard Time by stations WOC and KYW.

Weekly Review of Agriculture by Farmers' Paper

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Business activity improved moderately in the first half of September, but the "greatest improvement seems to have occurred in the financial field," the Prairie Farmer's weekly market review said.

"October and November are expected to bring increased supplies of fat yearlings and long-fed light steers to market," the review said. "Prices probably will pursue a downward trend. In the weighty division, increasing arrivals of fairly heavy short feds probably will make competition for all but a few strictly choice specialties. Larger receipts from the range are likely to weaken prices for common killers. Stocker and feeder demand probably will be active and may even increase if Reconstruction Finance Corporation loan funds become freely available. The corn belt needs more cattle to use the corn supply, especially in view of the decrease in the spring pig crop. The situation is not very promising as to margins on fat cattle over feeder costs by mid-winter, however."

"Seasonal increase in receipts of hogs was already evident in late September. Fall pigs from last year and packing sows were numerous enough to make up for any tardiness in the movement of the spring pigs. Total demand for pork products is quite unlikely to gain enough to absorb the seasonal increase in receipts except at lower prices. The fact that prices are already low is the best assurance against drastic declines."

"A small lamb crop in the west, favorable range conditions which reduced the proportion in feeder flesh, and a tendency to hold for higher prices have strengthened the feed lamb market. Prices for fat lambs are close to the season low. Wool prices have held their recent advance, although the volume of sales has fallen sharply. "Strength in wheat prices following the mid-September break appeared to rest on the improvement in flour trade when prices were near the low point, light receipts of both hard winter and spring wheat at domestic markets improved foreign demand for Canadian wheat, and resumption of speculative buying associated with a rally in the stock market. Prices are not likely to rise very far unless some artificial support enters the market."

"While corn prices may strengthen temporarily, advances are unlikely to extend far or last long. Heavy stocks of old corn on farms, the amounts farmers are selling at prevailing prices, a big visible supply, a large new crop now safe from frost, possibility of early arrivals of new corn, and decreased numbers of hogs are influences pointing to weakness for some time yet."

"Prices for dairy products have not been showing normal seasonal strength in the last few weeks. Receipts have fallen off but the movement out of storage has dragged."

"Prices for both fresh and storage eggs have been showing pronounced strength. Receipts of fresh eggs are still undergoing seasonal decrease and storage eggs are passing freely into consumption."

"Receipts of young poultry are down showing that producers are fattening to gain weight. Prices usually work lower from September through October and on lower in November."

Husking Contest Is Set For November 10

Kewanee, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—The annual corn husking contest, major farm sporting event, will be held November 10 at the Robert Peterson farm west of here on state Route 28 Henry county Farm Bureau officers and representatives of the Prairie Farmer sponsors, have announced.

Nine states, Indiana, Iowa, Illinois, Nebraska, Kansas, Ohio, South Dakota, Minnesota and Missouri, will send two representatives each and officials predict a crowd of 70,000 will witness the contest. Between now and the day of the event each of the competing states will conduct its own contest to select a champion and runner-up to vie for national honors.

Orville Welch, Monticello, Ill., present champion, will defend his title in the Illinois state contest, November 4, in Platt county. Prizes in the national event are $100; $50; $25; $15 and $10.

SMALL PLEDGES FARMERS HE'LL WORK FOR THEM

Says It Is Apparent the Farming Industry Must Be Saved

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 4.—Here in the heart of the Illinois corn-belt, Len Small, Republican nominee for governor, talked to his audience on their mutual problem—how to save the farming industry. The hope of putting the great power of the state of Illinois behind farm relief was one of the reasons that prompted him to become a candidate for governor, again, Mr. Small said. He declared he would look for no excuse or evasions and would have the nerve to put through such measures that in his opinion will give relief to agriculture. Even with strictest economy, he said, his own farm at Kankakee has been practically unable to meet expenses and pay taxes.

Mr. Small came into the 17th Congressional District to speak at Bloomington, Lincoln and Pontiac, with other candidates on the Republican ticket, a ticket on which all parts of the state are represented. "We may as well face the facts; we have got to save our farming industry in Illinois," Mr. Small said. "If we do not, our farms will go to ruin and most of our cities, including Chicago, that indirectly depend upon the prosperity of the farmer, are in danger of even harder times."

"We cannot go ahead year after year and operate our farms at a loss. I realize that our problem as farmers is a vast one involving not only our own state but extending far beyond its borders. It is national in scope and entitled to national consideration from our national government."

"The Democratic Party offers nothing to the farmers of Illinois. By the use of power of the Chicago city hall, the Democratic machine insisted on nominating a candidate for governor who knows nothing about farms or farming. I doubt whether he has ever been on a farm. Now he tells the farmers he will study their problems if he is elected. "I have spent my life on a farm and know the needs and problems of the farming population from personal experience. I shall bring to the solution of this problem all my best efforts, the same as I brought my best efforts to the building of highways throughout the state."

DEMOCRATIC RECORD
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 4.—"The Democratic party, whenever it has been in power, has left a record of high taxes and public bankruptcy in Illinois," Len Small, Republican candidate for governor, said in a speech today here at the seat of the state government.

"When the last Democratic state administration retired, it left a state treasury that was practically empty," he said. "Then the Republican party came into power. By the end of four years the treasury balance had been built up to $15,000,000, and during my administration was further increased to $40,000,000. That was done in spite of a reduction in the state tax rate."

Mr. Small pointed out that according to the U. S. Census Bureau reports, the annual per capita cost of government in Illinois in 1926 when he was governor was lower than every other state in the union except four. The state tax rate was 30 cents.

"At that time the credit of the state and its cities was very high," Mr. Small said. "State bonds were uniformly sold at a premium and the obligations of cities likewise sold at high prices. In state affairs and also in the City of Chicago the record of the Democratic party is a record of high taxes and public bankruptcy."

"The Democratic city administration has secured for unemployment relief from the State of Illinois up to the present time approximately fourteen and one-half million dollars. Of that amount about one and one-quarter million dollars was spent for employees, job holders and payrolls in distributing the unemployment relief. That was done under the city and county administrations of Cook County which are controlled by the Democratic party."

"In other counties where the distribution of relief was largely under the control of Republican administrations, the cost of distributing the unemployment relief was practically nothing, because it was usually done in the other counties by volunteer workers who received no salaries. "But the Democratic City Hall machine in Chicago saw in the unemployment relief fund a chance for further waste, political patronage and political pillage. Over 2,000 payrolls were used under Democratic management to distribute the unemployment relief and the cost to the people of Illinois was one and one-quarter million dollars."

"Now the same Democratic machine in Chicago stretches out its hand to try to grasp control of the government of Illinois. The state tax rate is fixed by three state fiscers, the governor, the auditor and treasurer. If the Democrats should succeed, the state tax rate would be fixed by a governor, auditor and treasurer controlled by the Democratic City Hall machine, of Chicago and the tax rate would be a rate dictated by that machine."

Earlier in the day Mr. Small and the other state candidates met with Republicans of Sangamon, Morgan, Menard, Christian, Montgomery and Macoupin counties, and meetings were held tonight at Springfield, Jacksonville, Taylorville, Pana, Litchfield and Carlinville.

Ogle Co. Farm Bureau Affairs

The association average for the month was 600 pounds of milk and 21.6 pounds of butterfat with 384 cows on test from 23 herds. Seventy of the 384 cows on test were dry. During the month 9 unprofitable cows were sold to the butcher. Thirty-three cows each produced over 40 pounds of fat.

The six highest producing herds were as follows:
Rock River Farms, 75 cows, average production, 912 pounds of milk, 30.6 pounds of butterfat.
T. J. Matchewiak, 29 cows, average production: 864 lbs. milk; 29.6 lbs. fat.

J. W. Hemingway, 11 cows, average production: 615 lbs. milk; 26.3 lbs. fat.

Ralph Thomas, 15 cows, average production, 722 lbs. milk; 25.7 lbs. butterfat.

Forrest Gillespie, 7 cows, average production: 807 lbs. milk; 25.0 lbs. fat.

Spalding & Rood, 19 cows, average production, 580 lbs. milk; 25.0 lbs. fat.

Rock River Farm, the largest herd in the association, was the leader for the month. Twelve cows are milked just twice daily now and so are on a better basis for comparison with other herds in the association.

Spalding & Rood have installed six new stanchions in their dairy and have built another silo. They are not losing faith in dairying. Nine more cows were sent to the butcher during the month, six of these because of low production. If the owners of these six cows had been members of the testing association they would still be wasting feed on these cows and putting their milk on the market. It is the milk from the low producing cows, which the farmer produces at a loss, that makes the surplus on the market and keep the price of all dairy products down.

Horses Break Old Records As Proof They Are Not Done

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 4.—Just in case somebody might think horses went out through Illinois teams went out and established three new state pulling records to clinch a series of contests which the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois has just held over the state. It is reported by E. T. Robbins, livestock extension specialist. All the new records were set in the Tuscola county. Contests had previously been held at Springfield, Roseville, August, St. Joseph, Morrison and Olney.

Both state records for horses went to Willard Rhodes, Springfield, who last year won the state championship in the class for heavy teams. This year in the class for teams weighing less than 3,000 pounds he had a team that set a new state record with a lift of 2,825 pounds for 271-2 feet. The team weighed 2,920 pounds. The previous record was a lift of 2,800 pounds made last year by a farm team of grade Percherons owned by W. A. King, Gilson.

Rhodes also took the championship in the class for heavy teams and set a new state record when his 3,675 pound team registered a lift of 3,200 pounds for 271-2 feet. The previous record in the heavy class was a lift of 3,150 pounds made last year by one of Rhoads' teams.

NINETEEN HERDS OF STATE LEAVE OTHERS BEHIND

Rock River Farms Herd Among High Producers In Year's Test

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Leaving the rest of the field far behind, 19 high-producing Illinois dairy cows owned by 17 different dairymen in 14 counties already have qualified for honors in the Illinois 500-pound Butterfat Cow club, it is announced by C. S. Rhode, dairy extension specialist of the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois who is in charge of the work.

With only eight months of the allotted year gone, each of the 19 cows already has produced 500 or more pounds of butterfat. Furthermore, the cow that is leading the field has a record of 645 lbs. to her credit. She is a purebred Holstein owned by Rock River Farms, Byron, Ogle county.

The 19 cows which have made the 500-pound mark are the pace setters for a field of 1,155 cows nominated for the club at the start of the year by 328 dairymen and farmers of 50 counties. Rhode said. Many of the original field of 1,155 cows have a strong chance to get under the wire during the four remaining months.

This is the fifth year for the club, which was started by the college to demonstrate the importance of good cows, improved feeding practices and good care and management in reducing costs and improving net income from dairy herds. In addition, the club gives good cows a chance to show their true ability and real worth as money makers on Illinois farms Rhode said.

Ogle county claims three of the high producers, Winnebago, Moultrie and Boone counties two each, while one winner has been placed by Kane, McLean, DuPage, Cook, Mason, Stephenson, Cook, Kankakee, McHenry and Menard counties.

Rock River Farm and the Illinois Masonic Home, Sullivan, are the only owners who have two cows in the list of early finishers. Owners of the other 15 high producers are A. E. Howard, Dundee; Alexander Guernsey Farm, Bloomington; Stewart Derwent, Durand; Country Home Farm, West Chicago; Mrs. Minshall Dole Mattoon; Vernie Ethell, Manito; J. W. Hemingway, Oregon; Herman Zurbiggen, Scioto Mills; Palanois Dairy Farm, Palatine; Mrs. Julia Comstock, Chesham; Maywood Farm, Hebron; Likens & Sumner, Durand; Edward G. Brown, Caldonia; Earle Kincaid, Athens, and Witbeck & Barth, of Belvidere.

ELIMINATE THE LOAFERS BEFORE YOU HOUSE THEM

By Prof W. B. Krueck
A great many poultry flocks on the average farm in the corn belt do not produce efficiently, due to the fact that the houses are often over-crowded. Often the feeder will carry these birds until along about the first of March when he wishes to have his flock culled to eliminate the non-producers.

Often the non-producers have been largely the cause of inefficiency in the flock. If the slow maturing, undersized birds are culled in the fall it will provide sufficient room for the rest of the birds to work efficiently in the average farm poultry house. Furthermore, the poultryman will build up the vigor of his flock by retaining in that flock only the birds that have the ability to mature and produce at an early age. There is no better time than right now to cull these slow maturing birds. Pick out the birds that have shallow bodies, short keels, poor heads, and generally indicate a lack of vigor.

If you keep them till the first of March these birds will have had three or four months to gain weight and they will have developed to where they look more nearly like the birds that had the inherent vigor to mature early and it will be harder to cull them.

By eliminating the inferior birds the board bill on the poultry flock can be reduced during the winter months and the cost of producing eggs can be reduced and the remaining birds will work more efficiently and better results will be obtained.

VISIBLE GRAIN SUPPLY

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The visible supply of American grain shows the following changes: in bushels: Wheat increased 1,549,000; corn increased 698,000; oats decreased 12,000; rye decreased 375,000; barley increased 234,000.

WRIGHT INSISTS HIS OPPONENT BE HELD TO RECORD

DeKalb Man Cites Some Statements Concern- ing Auditorship

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 4.—(Special)—"When I started in this campaign I planned to discuss the duties and powers of the State Auditor and what I believed I could do for the benefit of the people of Illinois if I was elected," Harry G. Wright, candidate for State Auditor, told party workers at the Republican meeting in Springfield today. "I will continue to discuss these issues. But my opponent now brings in another issue. He insists he is running on his record. And what a record!"

Let's see what just one chapter of his record shows:
"The Chicago Daily News of November 12, 1930 has a very unusual article about my opponent. The article was written by the political editor, P. R. Leach and was printed a few days after my opponent had been elected by 75,000 votes, while his running mate Sen. Lewis, was winning by 775,000 votes."

"I will read to you a part of Mr. Leach's very unusual article which by the way, shows that Mr. Leach is not only a great political writer, but is also somewhat of a prophet—a successful prophet who can really tell what is going to happen in the future. Here is what he wrote:

"Mr. Zacharias, an American born citizen of Polish parentage, of good standing in his community and among people of his extraction, was placed on the Democratic organization primary slate for State Treasurer. Young Edward J. Barrett, just turned 30 years of age, a world war veteran and a former employee of Mike A. Crozzo of the Street Sweepers Union, filed as a free lance candidate."

"Later on, so the story goes, Mr. Zacharias was called upon by a certain state leader, who told Mr. Zacharias that in the event of his election as State Treasurer, he would be made an official or a director of various downtown banks in which Democratic politicians are interested. That, he said, would be worth $50,000 a year to Mr. Zacharias, in addition to his annual state salary of $7,500 for two years."

"In return for this Mr. Zacharias was to agree to be State Treasurer in title and salary, while some Democratic leaders would control the office and place the state's funds in the RIGHT banks."

"Mr. Leach goes on to state in the Daily News that Mr. Zacharias refused this offer and was defeated for nomination."

"I am not going to let the Mike Carrozzo part of the record at this time, except to say that I cannot see for the life of me how association with this notorious Capone gangster could fit any young man to handle, or supervise the handling of other people's money. I am now gathering evidence which I will present to the people later, to show that my opponent, from this Carrozzo association or in some other peculiar manner did learn how to extract from the position of State Treasurer a very large sum of money for himself and his associates."

"Right now I would like to have my opponent tell if the same proposition was made to him as was made to Mr. Zacharias."

"Will my opponent tell what powerful forces got behind his FREE-LANCE candidacy and put him over for State Treasurer? Will he tell why a Mr. Cross was sent from a powerful downtown Chicago bank to set up the books in the Treasurer's office and why Mr. Bain from the same bank is now chief revenue clerk in the Treasurer's office, handling the placing of state funds?"

"The fact remains that this downtown Chicago bank is headed by one of the most outstanding Democrats in the entire United States and that my opponent since he has been State Treasurer has kept nearly all, or at least a greater part of all the state funds in this bank. He cannot deny this because the records in his own office show it to be a fact."

"That, my friends, is just one chapter from the record on which my opponent claims he should be elected to the higher office of State Auditor. He made the record and he will have to stand on it."

Toll Of Cloudburst May Not Be Known

Bakersfield, Calif., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Leaders of volunteers searching the mountainous Tehachapi area for additional victims of Friday's cloudburst, expressed the belief today the total death toll never may be known.

Eight bodies have been recovered, thirteen other persons have been given up as lost and probably as many as 20 unidentified itinerants were believed swept to their deaths by the 45-foot wall of water that came roaring down Tehachapi Pass with little warning.

The body of one of the victims, Mrs. Louise Kadd, was found nine miles from her home. Authorities said the force of the water may have carried other bodies greater distances which may prevent their being located. Tons of mud and debris were swept through the canyons and searchers said many bodies undoubtedly have been buried.

BIRDS HELPED IN AMERICA'S DISCOVERY!

COLUMBUS CHANGED HIS COURSE AND FOLLOWED THE LINE OF FLIGHT OF MIGRATING BIRDS, AND IT WAS THE SIGHTING OF LAND BIRDS THAT GAVE THE DISCOURAGED SAILORS THE HEART TO GO ON.

Columbus, by changing his course to correspond with the line of flight of the migrating birds, shortened his route to land by 200 miles, eventually landing in the Bahama Islands. At the time the birds were first seen, Columbus was some 650 miles from the Bahamas. His men were on the verge of mutiny, through fear and superstition, but the sight of the birds changed their spirits entirely.

SPORTS

FIRST 'CRUCIAL' GAME OF BIG TEN SEASON SATURDAY

The Loser In Michigan vs Northwestern Game Will Be "Out"

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The 1932 football campaign is still a babe but Northwestern and Michigan will meet Saturday in strife that will just about eliminate the loser from the Western Conference.

Off their decisive triumphs Saturday, both teams jumped from the front ranks of the favorites, which should further stimulate the already heavy demand for seats in Michigan's huge stadium. Northwestern followers already have taken up 20,000 reservations and the attendance may reach capacity figures of 82,000.

Ranked as darkhorses before their opening tests last Saturday, both teams surprised even their coaches. Northwestern wasted a lot of motion, but smashed Missouri, 27 to 0, and Michigan, rolling along at an even, methodical pace, crushed Michigan State's strong eleven, 26 to 0. Unless injuries occur this week, each will toss its most powerful army into the battle.

"Cripples" Are Ready
Northwestern's "cripples", Pug Rentner, Dick Pencil and George Potter, had to get into action to beat Missouri but conducted themselves like very healthy young men. They will lead the Wildcat attack while Michigan will rely on Harry Newman's passes. John Rencz's kicking and passing, Stanley Pay and Herman Everhardus, among others. Both lines surpassed expectations last week, promising a great battle of forwards.

Minnesota's camp today was just as concerned over the condition of its Ubl, as over its important struggle with Purdue Saturday. Ubl was suffering from a complication of ailments and his condition was critical. The rest of the Gophers were ready, with Jack Manders back in his 1931 form. The Boilemakers were not certain that Dutch Fehring and Dixie Moore would be in shape to play, but their substitutes did well enough against Kansas State to cause encouragement.

Illini Take It Easy
Pressure will be on all squads except Illinois, which will meet another minor opponent, Bradley, which took a wallop from Iowa Saturday. Coach Clarence Spears was not very thrilled over Wisconsin's 7 to 2 victory over Marquette, and has started shifting his lineup around again in readiness for Iowa. The Hawkeyes will have added strength with the return of Marvin Kuhn, fullback; Ed Dole, guard, and Eugene Cleaman, end, who were out with injuries.

Ohio performed satisfactorily against Ohio Wesleyan and Coach Sam Williamson plans to stand on the same lineup, but Indiana, which just nipped Ohio University, may present an altered front, especially in the line. The Hoosier forwards failed to stop Ohio thrusts consistently.

Chicago's preparation for the big battle against Yale at New Haven have been hampered by injuries to backfield stars, but most of the cripples are back and heavy duty will be the rule until the squad leaves Thursday. Notre Dame will open against Haskell Institute Saturday.

Little World Series to Be Resumed Today
Minneapolis, Oct. 4.—(AP)—All square with two victories each, the Newark Bears and the Minneapolis Millers trooped back to Nicollet Park today to break their deadlock in the fifth game of the little world series facing weather better suited to gridiron activities than baseball.

Both hoped for a bit of luck and a brace of consecutive wins to wind up the double A tourney after resting Monday when chilly autumn winds kept the visiting Bears indoors with the result that they staged a series of their own—around bridge tables.

A 41-year-old veteran, gray-haired Jesse Petty, was pitching entry for the Millers.

Big Jim Weaver was considered the most likely starter for Newark.

Stagg On Air

AMOS ALONZO STAGG

AMOS ALONZO STAGG, Chicago's 71-year-old dean of football coaches, will head up the All America Football Show from New Haven, Friday night, October 6, on the eve of the Yale-Chicago game which brings him back to his Alma Mater's gridiron for the first time in 40 years.

The star Yale end of 1888 who became the father of "modern football" will broadcast his views of the 1932 season under auspices of the All America Board of Football over a coast-to-coast Columbia network. The ten best players of the past week's gridiron battles, as chosen by leading sports writers, will be announced by Christy Walsh, director of the program. The two most spectacular plays of the week will be re-enacted with all the color of stadium cheering and college music.

Stagg's rise to football prominence has all the drama of an Alger success story. Determined to become a minister, "Lonny" worked his way through Yale divinity school, shoveling coal and doing odd jobs. He started first as a baseball pitcher. His football debut came about by accident when he filled a practice-day gap. He was drafted at once for the varsity.

Walter Camp selected Stagg for his All America team in 1893 and he has held the spotlight in the pigskin sport ever since.

PRELIMINARIES IN DIXON RING TOURNEY CARDED

Many Entries Have Been Received For Amateur Boxing

Tomorrow evening in the new home of the Dixon Athletic Club at 92½ Ottawa Avenue the Rock River Valley A. A. U. championships will get under way with the preliminaries. The show starts at 8:30 o'clock. Entries have been received from Rock Island, Dixon, Chillicothe, Rockford, Peoria, Rochelle, Silverstock and Kewanee.

This tourney, sanctioned by the Central A. A. U., is the first to be presented in Dixon. Thirty boys are expected to fight in the two evenings of entertainment. The winners will be awarded silver loving cups as prizes. Runners up will get the silver A. A. U. medal while an elaborate team trophy goes to the winning team.

Fighters from Dixon entered at present are Fred Hess, 170, and Lyle Klapprott, 135. Other local boys are probable beginners on Wednesday. The lineup follows: Kewanee, Jack Johnson, 126, Monte Rashid, 118, Allan Popjoy, 118, Charles Druminski, 145, Ellis Allison, 135, Peoria, Harry Danner, 126, Al Yeager, 135, John Zera, 145, Frank Gladd, 135, Ralph Raffetta, 135, Ward Adams, 126, Rock Island, Harry Gomez, 145, Rene Azidos, 160, John Murphy, 133, Ed Kupper, 135, George Shene, 152, Chillicothe, Jack Smith 118, Del Lipton, 126, Jimmy Scott, 135, Ed Myers, 160, Tom Jones, 126, Nello and Catalini and Julius Denny are the boys matched from Rockford but four more names will be added from the Forest City. Lester Grube is the Rochelle boy on the card. Silverstock will send a six-man team to the valley championships.

The football season this year is ushered in with the shrill sound of a million whistles. There is a whistle for almost every kind of play you can call to mind. It is necessary not only for the players but for the fans to study up the reasons for whistling.

Otherwise the players are going to waste a lot of energy up and down the field and the fans are going to spend a great many Saturday afternoons asking one other what it's all about. Also, there is just a chance that, in the late fall, football games will last far into the night.

TAKE IT ON THE CHIN—

It was this writer's observation at one of the early football games this fall that the people in the stands were not aware of what was going on, or why, after whistles had ended a great many of the plays.

It may be necessary to organize football debating societies and hold meetings after each game to thresh the whole thing out.

THERE HE GOES—

Let's say your favorite fullback, Old Crashin' Chris Crumb, has just seized the pumpkin, stiffarmed a few bodies out of his path and steamed down the field from the five yard line to the enemy's goal. A mad cheer rocks the stadium. Good old Crashin' Chris!

But during the cheer, the assembled clinic forgot to listen for that old root-a-toot-toot. The officials group their heads together down there on the gridiron. The referee runs down the field, picks up the egg and carries it back to

SEVERAL BRUISES WILL BE TRADED DURING WINTER

Grimes, Smith, Hack and Moore Are Likely To Be Elsewhere

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Already well scattered by blasts from New York Yankee guns, Chicago's Cubs followed by rumors that several of them would be elsewhere next season.

Most of the vanquished athletes were on their way home or headed for hunting trips, to which many baseball players are addicted during the off season.

Reports, which lacked anything like official verification, said Johnnie Grimes, Bob Smith and Jurek Moore, veterans, and young Stanley Hack, probably would move on. They may be used as trading material in moves to obtain a starting left-handed pitcher, and a batsman capable of hitting them frequently and long.

Neither Grimes nor Smith were much help as pitchers, and Hack showed promise and rates as good trading timber. Grimes plans to undergo another thorough examination, after which he may have his ailing appendix removed.

To Get Checks Soon
Checks for their shares of the spoils will be mailed out in a day or two by Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis, who must first decide if Rogers Hornsby should be cut in. Landis' only statement on the Hornsby case was "I'll make a decision in a day or two and I'll let it be known then."

The haste in which the Yankees won the world championship was the reason for continued and unhappy business in the Cub offices. The clerical force today started giving back around $200,000 in refunds for fifth game tickets. Chicago residents could get their refunds today by visiting a bank in the Wrigley Building, while cut of town holders of the useless tickets were requested to mail them to the club offices in the Wrigley Building.

the spot here Crashin' Chris got his start.

THE BOOK HAS IT—

You had better have a rule book with you then, my friends. And after a brief half-hour's study of the regulations, there is just a chance that you will find a paragraph which says something about the ball being dead when any part of the carrier's body touches the ground, except his feet, of course, Gus.

It seems that Crashin' Chris slipped to one knee on the wet field (it was raining that day) and that rendered his magnificent run null and void.

ANOTHER FOUL—

It further develops that during the course of Chris' canter down the gridiron, another player took off in a headlong tackle that almost killed old Chris. That was a foul too, because a player is not supposed to tackle a man carrying the nugget after the thing has been declared dead.

On a given play the whistle may sound for any one of what seem to be a million infractions of the rules. There are illegal forms of blocking, clipping, crawling kicking, hurdling, passing, shifting, tackling, substituting, lining up, moving before the ball is passed, huddling, roughing the kicker, kneeling, slugging, piling up and general unsportsmanship.

When the whistle sounds, the referee makes certain signs with his hands. Few people know the message he is trying to convey.

All you have to do is get a rule book and figure it out.

been declared dead.

Do You Remember?

One Year Ago Today—Paul Deringer, young Card hurler, was undergoing an operation for an abscess on his nose. Rochester went ahead in the little world series by defeating St. Paul 2-1. The series stood, Rochester three wins, St. Paul, one. Green Bay, National professional football champs, beat New York Giants 27-7 at Green Bay.

Five Years Ago Today—Toledo beat Buffalo 6-5 to take a three to one edge in the little world series. Corporal Izzy Schwartz reached the finals of flyweight tournament by beating Blas Rodriguez of Mexico in 10 rounds in their New York fight.

Ten Years Ago Today—Yankees lost first game of world series to Giants by a score of 3-2. Thirty-six thousand fans attended. Dan Howley was made manager of the Toronto Leafs.

Nobody Knows About Montreal N. L. Team

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—If a National League team is to be operated in Montreal next season, John McGraw knows nothing about it. And, so far as could be ascertained today, neither did anyone else.

Commenting on reports, current at Montreal, that he would head an organization seeking transfer of a National League franchise to the Canadian city, McGraw said: "I am not interested in any deal placing a National League club in Montreal or anywhere else. There is no basis for such a report."

At the tale was told in Montreal, McGraw and some unnamed associates, were seeking to purchase one of the league's franchises with the idea of moving it across the border. Mentioned in connection with this yarn were the St. Louis Cardinals, but President Sam Breadon promptly announced the Cardinals were not for sale.

SHERIFF MURDERED

Rushville, Ind., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Sheriff Ray Compton of Rush county was shot and killed by an unidentified man in a small house south of here Monday. The Sheriff had gone to the place to serve a "John Doe" warrant for alleged liquor law violation and to raid the place. The slayer escaped.

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington.—Mrs. Hattie Caraway back in the capital after her victory in Arkansas, which brings her to the senate as the first woman ever elected for a full term, has given her doctrine for winning success at the polls: "Don't talk about your opponent. Don't even mention him."

It would be interesting to know what "Old Thad" the late senator from Arkansas and the husband of Mrs. Caraway would think about a policy such as that for one of his name. Certainly it is foreign to anything he practiced when he was in the senate. It was not his nature to let anyone or anybody go unchallenged.

HE LIKED A BATTLE—

I loved nothing better than using his opponents by name, firing them on and then leveling them with his sharp tongue. "Do not even mention them"—why Thad Caraway would go so far at times to call a man over the telephone and invite him to meet him outside to settle a difference. He did it to Crampton of Michigan once when the latter was a member of the house.

But his widow and successor thinks differently. She prefers "little talks to the home folks about things in which they are interested."

Which is perhaps evidence enough that she intends to shape her career in the senate to her own way of thinking now that she has been elected in her own right. Heretofore she has said little, content to finish up the work that "Dad" had started. The years ahead probably will see her working on a program of her own.

But there no "Senator Caraway as yet on the door of her office. It is still just "Mrs. Caraway."

She prefers it so.

PLEASURE IS SHORT—

An amusing story concerning Italy's retiring ambassador, de Martino, has just come to light. The ambassador, a devotee of motoring, recently was touring the Blue Ridge section of nearby Virginia. At a little mountain town his car broke down. The garage man informed him it would take a hour or more to repair it.

De Martino strolled to a nearby movie to while away the time. As he entered the fascist anthem greeted him. He was puzzled, feeling that no one knew him in those parts, but at the same time tremendously pleased.

His pleasure was short lived. A news reel depicting a scene in Italy flashed on the screen. The fascist anthem was merely to introduce it.

Danville Man Head Of Home Loan Bank

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Franklin W. Fort, chairman of the Home Loan Bank Board, Monday announced the chairman, vice chairman and presidents of seven of the twelve regional Federal Home Loan Banks.

The officials, who will gather here Wednesday to determine the methods of operation and other matters pertinent to getting the banks opened Oct. 15, include: District 7—Evanston, Ill.; Chairman, S. P. Phillips, Danville Building Association, Danville, Ill.; Vice Chairman, Henry G. Zander, Chicago; August C. Backus, Milwaukee, Wis.

The board expects to announce the remaining five districts before long. They were held up because acceptances had not been received.

STICKS TO TRADE

New York.—After all these years of prohibition Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard, Jr., has found a bartender of the old days who is still plying his trade. He is A. Charles O'Brien, who was haled into court for selling liquor. When asked his occupation he replied that he was a "bartender." He was fined $50.

THIRD OF R. F. C. FUND IS LOANED REPORT STATES

Steady Decline Is Noted In Applications From Bankers

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Advances of $1,182,734,958 "in actual cash to aid agriculture, commerce and industry to recover from the depression" were announced today by the Reconstruction Corporation in a summary of loans made during its first seven months of operation. From February 2, through August 31, the Corporation said $1,119,532,968 was loaned to 5599 borrowers; $64,201,989 through the Secretary of Agriculture to 507632 farmers for crop production purposes.

In addition advances to states and political subdivisions for relieving distress were totaled by the Corporation at $35,455,171 from the enactment of the relief law in July to the close of business September 30.

Use Third of Fund

The Corporation's statement, showing that its financial operations have involved approximately one-third of the $3,800,000,000 fund placed at its disposal by Congress, dealt only with general statistics and did not mention individual borrowers.

The Corporation said that of its $1,118,532,968 direct loans, borrowers on August 31 had repaid $150,890,897 leaving $967,642,071 outstanding. Loans of $226,101,268 had been authorized in addition to cash actually paid out, but $35,564,412 of this amount was cancelled by the borrowers and $190,536,855 had not been called for.

"This statistics further show," the Corporation said, "that there has been a steady decline in applications for loans from banks since April. In that month 1269 applications were received, and in August only 899."

Farm loans made by the Secretary of Agriculture averaged $126,471 each and were made in every state except Rhode Island. Arkansas led in the number of individual loans with 46,835. Georgia was next with 44,158 and Mississippi third with 40,066.

The Corporation's direct cash loans to 5599 borrowers included:

Direct Cash Loan

4324 banks and trust companies opened when the loans were made; 391 receivers of banks closed when the loans were made; 643 building and loan associations; 79 insurance companies; 68 mortgage loan companies; 49 railroads; 17 livestock credit corporations; 10 agricultural credit corporations; 9 federal land banks; 6 joint stock land banks and 3 credit unions.

The corporation authorized loans to 4715 separate banks located as follows:

3291 in towns of less than 5000 population; 754 in cities of 5000 to 25,000; 332 in cities of 25,000 to 100,000; 157 in cities of 100,000 to 500,000; 87 in cities of 500,000 to 1,000,000 and 94 in cities larger than 1,000,000 population.

Total applications for business loans up to August 31, were given by the Corporation as 7951 of which 6584 were from banks and trust companies. The peak was reached in April with 1527 and dropped off gradually to 1151 in August.

The corporation said $75,000,000 of the $200,000,000 placed at the disposal of the Secretary of Agriculture has been paid that official and that the balance not used by him is available for purchasing stock of the regional agricultural credit corporations being created.

Of the $64,201,989 loaned to farmers by the Secretary of Agriculture, for crop production purposes, midwestern states received the following allocations:

State	Loans	Total Amt
Illinois	768	$ 107,192
Indiana	3,066	362,041
Iowa	1,824	301,300
Missouri	9,258	1,094,216
Wisconsin	6,831	625,542

Up to September 30, the corporation said $35,455,171 had been advanced in relief loans to 25 states and one territory. Of this amount, $30,533,586 is subject to repayment through deductions from future Federal-aid road funds, while $4,921,585 was loaned through governors to political subdivisions.

Amounts made available to midwestern states:

Illinois	$14,000,000
Missouri	$853,000
Wisconsin	$3,000,000

JAPAN TO DEFY WORLD OPINION OF HER ACTION

Report Of League Investigators Ignored By Tokyo Cabinet

Tokyo, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The cabinet decided today, after a session called to consider the League of Nations commission's report on Manchuria, that there was no reason to alter its Manchurian policy, the keystone of which is the separation of Manchukuo from China and the maintenance of its independence.

Accounts of the meeting published in local newspapers agreed that War Minister Sadao Araki led the critics and was joined by several ministers. Araki said the report was merely "a diary of a fortnight's journey through Manchuria" and showed inability to grasp fundamentals. As such, he said, it was unworthy of Japan's serious attention.

Japanese newspapers quoted a spokesman for the Foreign Office today as saying Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson's speech at Philadelphia last Saturday, in which he recounted the high spots of the foreign relations record of President Hoover's administration, was a menace to the good relations between Japan and the United States.

By again "speaking against Japan," the spokesman was quoted as saying, Mr. Stimson offered further provocation, which was described as a "serious matter."

The Japanese saw a close connection, he said, between Mr. Stimson's speech, the publication of the Lytton report at Geneva Sunday, inferentially condemning Japan's military activities in Manchuria, and continued concentration of the United States navy in the Pacific.

Would Nullify Part Penna. Constitution

Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Howard Hosmer, an examiner, Monday recommended that the Interstate Commerce Commission declare inoperative the long and short haul freight provision in the Pennsylvania state constitution.

He found that railroads are being forced to haul freight at lower rates within Pennsylvania than between interstate points of similar distances.

The provision was inserted in the constitution when Pennsylvania's last basic law was adopted.

This is the first time in the almost half century the Interstate Commerce Commission has been in existence that a state regulation brought into issue is a constitutional provision.
